CHANGES IN THE POLICY OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

None To Be Admitted For Students Unless They Are To Become Teachers.

NOSS IS RE-ELECTED

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Southwestern State Normal school at California yesterday an important step was taken concerning the receiving of pupils. Hereafter the institution will be strictly a normal school, accepting only students who are preparing to teach.

The reasons for the action was the fact that there are so many high schools in the vicinity, that the preparatory classes will be discontinued. High school and teachers certificates, followed by the passing of entrance examinations will admit students to the normal.

The election of the faculty consisting of thirty members took place at yesterday's meeting for the ensuing year. Dr. Theodore B. Noss was unanimously re-elected principal, which position he has held for over 20 years. Dr. J. B. Meese was elected vice principal in place of Dr. C. L. Ehrenfeld, who resigned as vice principal, but will continue with the college as assistant professor of English and letters. H. B. Davis of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., was elected superintendent of the training school. This school is the largest of any connected with the Normal schools in the state, having 400 pupils and a staff of eight teachers.

The year just closing has been the most successful in the history of the Southwestern, there being over 600 pupils in the normal department and 400 in the preparatory classes. The commencement exercises of the college will be held on Wednesday, June 24.

The out of town members attending the meeting yesterday were: State Bank Examiner J. A. Berkley, of Somerset; State Senator W. F. Grew, Uniontown; Joseph A. Herron, Monongahela; Joseph Underwood, Roscoe; George M. Mitchell, Monessen, and W. H. Binns, Donora.

Memorial Services.

Charleroi Lodge No. 1030 Caligran Encampment No. 254 and Iris Rebekah Lodge No. 299 will hold Memorial Services on Tuesday evening June 9th in the School Hall, Ninth St. Sister Lodges and the public are cordially invited. By order of Committee.

GLASS FACTORY'S LONG OPERATION

Greensburg, Pa., June 4.—With their product for the next two and one-half years already sold, the Stahl Glass Company, employing 350 men and boys, which was destroyed by fire in January, resumed operations this week and will run continuously during June.

The summer shutdown will extend over the months of July and August, but the forces will be increased with the blowing in on September 1, and the plant will be run night and day to capacity. John D. Stahl of Homestead, president of the concern, says that by January 1 orders will have been booked to keep the plant running to capacity for the next five years.

TWO POPULAR MEN LEAVE CHARLEROI FOR OTHER FIELDS

One May Locate In Ohio and The Other will Go To Far West.

FAREWELL RECEPTIONS

Early this morning H. L. Birchard, for over a year general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. left for Union City, Pa., where he will remain for sometime and then likely go to Ohio, where he will take up Y. M. C. A. work in some large city. Mr. Birchard resigned as secretary here at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board on Friday night, when other business of importance was done.

Mr. Birchard while here but seemingly a short time has established a wide acquaintance and was most popular with all his friends. He was a favorite with all the patrons of the Y. M. C. A. and especially by the younger boys, therefore it is with much regret that he is seen to leave this place.

A farewell reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Birchard last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon on McKean avenue, the entertainment committee of the Jr. Wesley Bible class of the M. E. Sunday school having the affair in charge. Mr. Birchard being the teacher of the class. A pleasant evening was spent but at the last there was a sorrowful parting as the popular couple were saying the farewells.

Another well known Charleroi man to leave this morning was Rev. Morvin Custer, until recently pastor of the First Presbyterian church. He goes to the far West, into Indian Territory where he has accepted a charge. Rev. Custer resigned his pastorate here near the first of May preaching his farewell sermon last Sunday evening. Ill health is the principal cause of his seeking a change, the doctors having advised him to go West.

In Mr. Custer the town loses a good citizen who always fought for what he thought was right and one who was ready at all times to do whatever possible in the way of bettering conditions in the town. For over a year he was president of the Board of Health, which office he filled creditably.

Mrs. Custer and children will follow later, they remaining here for a few days to visit with friends.

MONESSEN POLICE SAY NO BLANKS ON FOURTH

The Monessen police department will place rigid restrictions on the manner of Fourth of July celebrating this year and they do not intend to allow any grass to grow under their feet in acquainting the public with the fact. Burgess Shutterly has decided to profit by past experience and blank cartridges and the harmless pistol must be cut out of the day's program.

It will be remembered that two were struck on New Year's night here by stray bullets from the revolvers of careless celebrants and one life was almost sacrificed. All persons using revolvers or firearms of any kind, no matter what kind of cartridges are used, will be arrested and receive the full limit of the law.—Monessen Independent.

WINNING STREAK OF THE COKERS WAS STOPPED

Charleroi Took First Game Of Present Series 5 to 4.

QUINLAN PITCHED WELL

Arch Osborne and his Cherubs floated over to Connellsville and put a crimp in the winning streak of the Mud Island aggregation and incidentally tied us with the Uniontown bunch for the first station in the pennant race. A fellow by the name of Quinlan who has been pitching ball for Bill Phillips down at Liverpool this season had much to do with Charleroi's victory as he pitched elegant ball and then when it came time to get the runs that won the game he was there some with his war club having three of the eleven hits made by Charleroi. Connellsville had things pretty much their own way until the eighth inning when Guesman was chased off the mound by a fearful bombardment which allowed Charleroi to tie the score. Wallace was substituted but could not stop the slugger and two hits for one run in the ninth took the game from the Cokers.

Two Italians Are Suspected Of Robberies

Monongahela June 5.—The local police believe that in the arrest of two Italians last evening they have the men who have been terrorizing the town and valley with frequent holdups and robberies.

One, giving in name as Saul Tasquale, was arrested on Main street on a charge of petty thieving. While passing down Main street he snatched some fruit from the stand of Antonio Coregeva, who demanded payment. This was refused and the fruit dealer held his man until Officer Bergmann arrested him. When searched a .38 caliber revolver and a large dirk knife were found on his person.

After his arrest an Italian giving his name as Petero demanded the release of Tasquale, and when he was told that this could not be done he became threatening and was also placed under arrest. The same warlike equipment found on the first prisoner was duplicated in his pockets. They were taken before Mayor William Blankenbuehler last evening and held for court. Tasquale's bail was placed at $300 and Petero's at $400.

CASES OF LOCAL INTEREST HEARD IN COUNTY COURT

School Board Sues Railroad Company—Placed In Juries Hands.

VERDICTS RENDERED

The case of the school district of East Bethelchem township against the Pennsylvania, Monongahela and Southern Railroad company was to go to the jury this morning in the county courts. This is an action for compensation for injuries to school property occasioned by the railroad company appropriating a strip of school land 277 feet in length at Millsboro, where the district high school is located. The railroad company built an underground crossing and moved the public road up the hill. The company also built a concrete walk. It was claimed for the plaintiff that the school property had been greatly damaged, and there was a likelihood that the building would have to be abandoned. Several witnesses were called who estimated the damages to the property at from $8,000 to $12,000. The defense called several witnesses who testified that the property was worth from $7,000 to $10,000 and was not damaged for school purposes. One witness put the damage at $1,500.

In the case of the Monongahela City Trust company, received for the Tobison Machine company, against the Pittsburgh and Westmoreland Coal company, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $331.44, the amount of the claim sued for. It was an action to recover for a set of cage-ladders furnished the defendant company. The defense was that they were improperly constructed and failed to work.

Letter to David Kellog.

Charleroi, Pa.
Dear Sir: You know Barnum said people like to be humbugged; but nobody ever gave more for the money than Barnum; and nobody sold more goods.

Paint humbug is different. There are more than 200 paints, all but 8 adulterated, all but one of the eight are more or less weak, only one is as strong as paint can be made.

What is wanted of paint is strength, paint strength; nothing else but paint strength.

When you paint your house, bear in mind what a gallon costs and look out for your gallons. The gallon itself is $1.75 or a little less; it has to be spread on the building; that costs $2 to $4. The gallon put-on is $5.

Strongest paints, least gallons to buy and put-on at $5 a gallon. Look-out for your gallons.

Strongest paint, of course wears longest. Look-out for your gallons; look-out for nothing but gallons.

Strength is all; paint strength. Least gallons is all. All else is the humbug that Barnum told of but never did—it was worth a quarter to see Joyce Heth and the Woolly Horse, say nothing of Barnum himself, who was half the show.

Yours truly

The Poor Hungry Fish.

"Here is an interesting thing that happened last summer to a friend and myself," said a New Yorker. "We had gone on a fishing trip in a rowboat, but it seemed that either all the fish were at another place or were not hungry. We decided if those fish were not hungry we were. We had taken our luncheon, was wise fishermen will, and in order to keep the bread as fresh as possible had left it in loaf form. My friend asked me to pass it to him, and in doing so the loaf of bread went overboard. We made out the best we could without the bread and later rowed to another place to fish. On our way back we passed the place where we lost our bread. Then we saw the sight of our lives. On each side of the loaf of bread stood a big fish, and for as far as we could see there was a great line of small fish. We wondered what it was, and then the thought dawned on us—those fish had formed a 'bread line' and the two large fish were dealing out the bread. After that we didn't have the heart to try to catch any of those poor, hungry fish."

MAN ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE THIS MORNING

Accused Of Selling Liquor On Sunday And To Minors.

TAKEN TO MONONGAHELA

Charles Dobinski, of Donora was arrested at that place this morning on a charge of illegal liquor selling. County Detective McCleary made the arrest.

The house where the man conducted his liquor business has been under surveillance for some time, but not until recently were the officers able to find enough evidence to warrant the arrest. It is said that Dobinski conducted a retail liquor business on Sunday, and that on that day his place was crowded and men hardly able to walk had been seen to make their exit through a rear door. He is also charged with selling liquor to minors. The man will be given a hearing to-night before Mayor Blankenbuehler, of Monongahela.

Circumstantial Evidence.

"You say you met the defendant on a street car and that he had been drinking and gambling," said the attorney for the defense during the cross examination.

"Yes," replied the witness.

"Did you see him take a drink?"

"No."

"Did you see him gambling?"

"No."

"Then how do you know," demanded the attorney, "that the defendant had been drinking and gambling?"

"Well," explained the witness, "he gave the conductor a blue chip for his car fare and told him to keep the change."—Lippincott's Magazine.

MINE WORKERS SECURE A SCALE

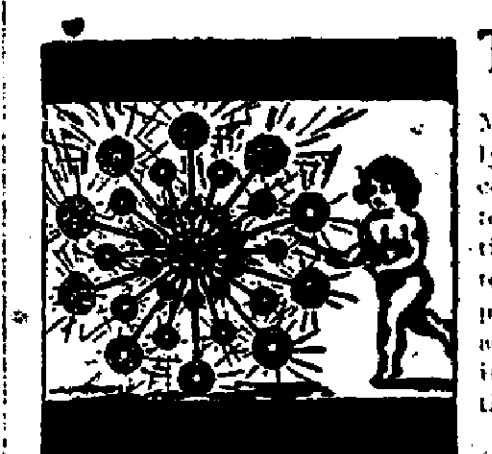

Pittsburg June 4.—"A satisfactory wage scale was agreed on at Kaylor for the mine workers in Armstrong county and at Greenville yesterday for the men in the Mercer-Butler field."

President Francis Feehan, of district No. 5, made the foregoing statement this morning upon his return from Greenville, in company with Vice President James S. Clark, and National Vice President John P. White.

Continuing, President Feehan said, "We met the operators at Kaylor and were able to very quickly come to an agreement whereby over 1,000 miners will return to work. At Greenville the same conditions were met and a joint agreement was entered into between the operators and the representatives of the field, which will affect about 2,500 to 3,000 men."

"A special convention of the men in the Mercer-Butler field has been called for next Tuesday when the agreement will, it is expected, be formally ratified."

President Feehan expressed himself as satisfied with the work done and is today sending out calls for the Grove City meeting. National Vice President White will remain in the Pittsburg district a few days before going to the national headquarters at Indianapolis.

NAOMI MINE WILL NOW BE ONE OF BEST VENTILATED

Operations Started With Large Working Force—Big Daily Output.

TO SPRINKLE COAL DUST

After a shut down of six months during the greater part of which time repairs of some kind were in progress the Naomi mine of the United Coal Company has resumed operations. It was at this mine the first of the series of recent fatal explosions occurred on the night of December 1 last, when 34 men lost their lives. Following an inquest a special commission appointed by James S. Roderick, chief of the State Department of Mine, ordered a number of changes for the better protection of miners. Naomi is today said to be one of the safest and best ventilated mines on the Monongahela River, the company having spent a great sum in making it so. James Henderson is superintendent.

That a better system of ventilation might be secured an air course was driven the entire length of the right side of the mine. It is over five thousand feet long and 70 square feet in area—the same size as the main entries. For part of this distance the air course traverses abandoned workings, many of which were full of water that had to be bulkheaded off. It is but a temporary arrangement, as an air shaft is being sunk a short distance beyond the end of the present mains. As soon as this is completed, in two or three months, the air course will be abandoned. Instead of there being one inlet and two outlets as before, there are now two inlets and two outlets giving every entry a plentiful supply for fresh air.

The mine will be regularly sprinkled to keep down the dust which in the past has caused nearly as much trouble as the gas.

Three hundred and twenty-five men are now employed at Naomi, which number will be increased to 400. The output is now about 1,200 tons of run-of-mine coal a day but soon it is expected to run close to 2,000 tons. The payroll is $12,000 every two weeks, and with the additional output this will be increased to $18,000.

The air shaft being sunk will be 13x206 feet and will be fitted with a cage to hoist and lower the men and supplies. It will be sufficiently large to take coal out, should the company decide at any time to increase the output. Sufficient acreage is held to last for 20 years.

BANK RECEIVER PAYS DIVIDENDS

Waynesburg, Pa., June 4.—John H. Strawn, receiver of the Farmers and Drivers National Bank, which closed its doors December 12, 1906, received checks from the Comptroller of the Currency today for the second dividend, and they are now ready for distribution.

The present dividend is for 15 per cent of the entire claim, and will give the depositors over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The first dividend, 25 per cent was paid almost a year ago.

To "Do Over"

Much roughly thrown together, crudely soldered, ill-looking repair work comes to us. New patrons bring it to us to "do over." Same way with time pieces, from the daintiest watch to the largest clock. They all give plain proof of tampering rather than adjusting; all this tells us that nothing short of own way of doing things right will build a business.

Deserves Reward.

This paper has refused an advertisement for a coal burner house in Chicago. The advertiser claimed to be selling groceries at an enormous cut in price. The advertisement was either a trick or the advertiser was improving provisions. We trust our friends in the grocery business, as well as the people of the town will appreciate our efforts to protect them
from such concerns—Monessen Independent.

The Independent deserves thanks for its refusal. But that refusal cost it money. It is a common saying that
"There is no sentiment in business,"
yet every newspaper, worthy of the name, possesses sentiment enough for
home institutions to refuse to accept advertising that would work injury to home merchants. It is begging the question to say that such advertising
would not harm the business of home
merchants. It must be profitable or
the sharp, shrewd, and in many cases,
unscrupulous, men at the head of the
mail order houses would not be so extremely anxious to use the columns of
local papers to exploit their wares.
And it is also true that many of these
mail order houses advertise a while and
sell a sucker and the newspapers know
it and in refusing the advertisements
the local papers perform a double service, that of protecting the people
from imposition and also the business men from unscrupulous competition.
It is equally true that the local papers
could fill their advertising columns
with advertisements of mail order
houses located in Chicago, in Pittsburg, in Wheeling in Baltimore, in Philadelphia, and even from as far as
St. Louis, yet like the Independent,
they refuse to do so.

How well this service is appreciated
can be told by a glance over a local paper.

Why?

Why are newspapers usually termed independent in politics almost always found antagonizing the Republican party, its policies and its candidates?
Is it because the Democratic party has nothing to attack? Is it because that party has attained an excellence, both
in principle and performance, that is beyond criticism? Or do they go upon the idea that it is useless to kick a corner?

The Republican party is made up
of millions of men who have always
gone upon the idea that the majority
shall rule. Unless we accept the New England dictum that "majorities are always wrong," it would seem that
after a majority of the Republican voters have expressed their will, those professing Republican principles under independent pretensions should at least
refrain from indecent and untruthful
criticisms.

But they do not do this. They substitute their whims, their isms and
their private grievances for the crystallized wisdom of the party and proceed under an independent cloak to traduce all that which the Republican party stands for.

Should Be Prohibited.

The Charleroi Council should, at its
next meeting enact an ordinance regulating the sale of explosives in this borough. The approach of July 4th,
and the consequences arising from the sale of dangerous explosives to the old
as well as the young need not be told.
Under such an ordinance necessary.

The place at which to prevent these annual killings and maimings is the place where the death-dealing articles are sold. It is like locking the barn
after the horse is stolen to arrest boys
who can freely purchase such things.
For they will buy and use them if they can, despite the best efforts of the police. By forbidding their sale with heavy penalties attached for its violation many distressing accidents will
be averted.

Other cities and boroughs in Pennsylvania have enacted and enforced
such an ordinance and the highest
court in the State has sustained them
and such an ordinance is needed.

Beginning Work.

The clans are gathering at Chicago
and it is not too much to say that the work of the National Committeemen
this week will go a long ways in determining who will be the next Republican nominee for President.

There are 229 contested seats and
the result of those contests will determine whether Secretary Taft will be nominated on the first ballot or not.
Mr. Taft must get better than an even break to secure that result, and if he does not, then it is the field against
him. And possibly and probably a
"dark horse" will secure the prize.
If Mr. Taft gets a majority of the contested seats the work of the convention will be that of merely ratifying its decisions and nominating him. So the nomination of Mr. Taft will really hinge upon the actions of the National Committee
this week. That there will be stubborn contests goes without saying as
all other candidates realize the importance of this week's work.

WILL SEEK TO HAVE ROADS IMPROVED

A committee has been appointed by the Monongahela Chamber of Commerce committee to confer with the county commissioners at Washington
about the failure to improve the Dry Run road. The matter of the under-writer's report dealing with the alleged bad fire fighting facilities there and the condition of the water mains were discussed. It was decided to confer with the Fire and Water committees of councils and a committee was appointed for that purpose. It is claimed that owing to the bad fire protection at Monongahela, fire insurance rates are fully 31 per cent higher than they should be.

The Emerson Oxford
HONEST ALL
THROUGH

You ought to buy the Emerson Oxford
now because Fashion dictates
the wear of the low-cut shoe in Spring and Summer, and in the many stylish lasts of the Emerson Oxford we have just
that newest style suited to your particular foot needs.

You ought to wear the Emerson Oxford because it combines comfort and style. The stiff box toe is built sufficiently
high to give room for the foot,
and thus prevent that uncom-
fortable pressure and rubbing
wear to the hosiery found in the ordinary low cut shoe. The perfect cut of the upper leather of the Emerson permits of no flaring
edge. That is why it is called
"The Shoe that Fits the Ankle."
Ask us to prove it before you
buy. We only dare offer to because we know we can.

Among the Exchanges

The New Castle Herald Sermouizer thusly over our old friend Towser:

Another war against dogs is on. There are two sides to these periodic carves. Whoever sees a person die of hydrophobia is ready to see every dog shot out of existence. Everybody who starts to raise sheep in New England discovers that in this part of the world dogs are esteemed higher than sheep. It is universal testimony that, but for our dogs, Connecticut would have several million sheep on her fields, now given over to underbrush. This is the practical side. On the other side is the man who owns a dog. Be he Bill Sykes or the most law abiding citizen in the land, if he has a dog he is opposed to any general dog slaughter. There is an attachment between men and dogs that has a real foundation deep down in the affections. The fidelity of the good dog is proverbial and genuine. The intelligence of some dogs is marvelous—the bloodhound for instance, or the hunter. The fool car dog that dashes out at you as you pass may be the pet of a bunch of poor children, to whom he is company and guide. He is worthless to you and in your opinion, and yet he is loved and his death would cause grief. Under these conditions it is altogether probable that the dog will ever be exterminated from this part of the earth. He has too many friends when individually considered. In the gross he is a nuisance, but in particular he is the object of somebody's affections, and in that his safety lies.

Juveniles Make Great Hit At Star

Large crowds witnessed both performances of the Juvenile Minstrels at the Star theatre last night and every one went away well pleased. Many who did not witness the youthful minstrels at the School Hall some time ago took advantage of the opportunity last night to see them while those who did witness the former production were anxious to again see it. At the first show the theatre was packed to the doors and many wished to remain for the second. At the last performance the place was also well filled.

The end men's jokes were given in a better manner than ever and each "gag" received well merited applause. The soloists were Duncan Berryman, John Gaut, Ira Ransom and Bennie Jones and the end boys were Mac Jameson, Carlon Jameson and Frank Michener, bones, and Fred Schenker, Paul Nutt and Frank Ailes, tambors.

What perhaps was one of the best features of the evening's performance was the work of little Bennie Jones, the Charleroi infant prodigy. His solo, "School Days," in the first part was well rendered and brought most hearty applause. In the olio, which was short, the little fellow's ability was best demonstrated. He sang, "Why Was I Ever Born Lazy" and "It's Great To Be A Soldier Man."

The accompanist for the boys was Miss Cheerful Willoughby of Monongahela. The minstrel was produced under the direction of Johnny Jenkins. Tomorrow afternoon at the matinee, especially for the children the boys will do their famous and most laughable cakewalk.

Kodol completely digests all classes of food. It will get right at the trouble and do the very work itself for the stomach. It's pleasant to take. Sold by Piper Bros.

A BAD PLAN OF TRAVEL.

The Scheme That Worried One Woman on Her Trip Abroad.

"When I hear of people joyfully making plans for their first trip abroad," said a man who has made many a transatlantic voyage, "I am tempted to give them a little bit of advice, based, of course, on my own observations, but particularly upon a remark made to me by a middle aged woman whose seat in the saloon was next to mine on my return trip last summer. This woman had a husband, and it was to him that she referred in answering my question one day. I asked her what she had been doing on the other side. She looked half quizzically, half reproachfully, at her spouse and said, 'Well, my intellectual occupation was trying to keep track of John."

"It developed that her concern was not over what John might do in European capitals, but simply related to the difficulty each had in meeting the other after pursuing their several ways in a strange city, she to browse among the shops and he, an inveterate sightseer, to visit this, that and the other spot of interest. Their general scheme, as I was informed, was to diverge, say, in the morning, following their respective bents and arranging to meet at a certain place at a certain time. The plan sounds feasible, but it is experimental, and, as both of them found, it was an experiment that didn't work well. First one would be delayed and then the other, and if you have ever waited for a person in a foreign city, you can appreciate the particular variety of anxiety that comes in about ten minutes. There's a feeling that something has happened to the missing person, for one thing, and, for another, there's an increasing realization that you yourself are wasting time. If you start out to look up the delinquent, the case becomes practically hopeless. The needle in the haystack is easy compared to that search. When the reunion does come at dinner time in the hotel or pension, explanations are received with tears or haughty disdain. Oh, I know; I've been through it."—New York Press.

Automatic Salt Works.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is prevented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in an almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little farther the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has solidified and is ready for the market. Wells driven into the sand disclose strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

An Anecdote of Ellsworth.

There was a characteristic incident in the early life of Colonel Ellsworth, the brilliant young lawyer who was one of the first notable victims of the civil war. His struggles to gain a foothold in his profession were attended by many hardships and humiliating privations. Once, finding the man he was looking for on a matter of business in a restaurant, he was invited to partake of the luncheon to which his acquaintance was just sitting down. Ellsworth was ravenously hungry, almost starving, in fact, but he declined courteously, but firmly, asking permission to talk over the business that had brought him thither while the other went on with the meal.

The brave young fellow in telling the story in after years confessed that he suffered positive agony at the sight and smell of the tempting food.
"I could not in honor accept hospitality I could not reciprocate," was his simple explanation of his refusal. "I might starve, but I could not sponger!"—Marion Harland's "Complete Etiquette."

The head, like the stomach, is most easily infected with poison when it is empty.—Jean Paul Richter.

CHANGES IN THE POLICY OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

None To Be Admitted For Students Unless They Are To Become Teachers.

NOSS IS RE-ELECTED

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Southwestern State Normal school at California yesterday an important step was taken concerning the receiving of pupils. Hereafter the institution will be strictly a normal school, accepting only students who are preparing to teach.

The reasons for the action was the fact that there are many high schools in the vicinity, that the preparatory classes will be discontinued. High school and teachers certificates, followed by the passing of entrance examinations will admit students to the normal.

The election of the faculty consisting of thirty members took place at yesterday's meeting for the ensuing year. Dr. Theodore B. Noss was unanimously re-elected principal, which position he has held for over 20 years. Dr. J. B. Meese was elected vice principal in place of Dr. C. L. Ehrenfeld, who resigned as vice principal, but will continue with the college as assistant professor of English and letters. H. B. Davis of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., was elected superintendent of the training school. This school is the largest of any connected with the Normal schools in the state, having 400 pupils and a staff of eight teachers.

The year just closing has been the most successful in the history of the Southwestern, there being over 600 pupils in the normal department and 403 in the preparatory classes. The commencement exercises of the college will be held on Wednesday, June 24.

The out of town members attending the meeting yesterday were: State Bank Examiner J. A. Berkley, of Somerset; State Senator W. F. Grew, Uniontown; Joseph A. Herron, Monongahela; Joseph Underwood, Roscoe; George M. Mitchell, Monessen, and W. H. Binns, Donora.

GLASS FACTORY'S LONG OPERATION

Greensburg, Pa., June 4.—With their product for the next two and one-half years already sold, the Stahl Glass Company, employing 350 men and boys, which was destroyed by fire in January, resumed operations this week and will run continuously during June.

The summer shutdown will extend over the months of July and August, but the forces will be increased with the blowing in on September 1, and the plant will be run night and day to capacity. John D. Stahl of Homestead, president of the concern, says that by January 1 orders will have been booked to keep the plant running to capacity for the next five years.

TWO POPULAR MEN LEAVE CHARLEROI FOR OTHER FIELDS

One May Locate In Ohio and The Other will Go To Far West

FAREWELL RECEPTIONS

Early this morning H. L. Birchard of the Y. M. C. A. left for Union City, Pa., where he will remain for sometime and then likely go to Ohio, where he will take up Y. M. C. A. work in some large city. Mr. Birchard resigned as secretary here at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board on Friday night when other business of importance was done.

Mr. Birchard while here, but seemingly a short time, has established a wide acquaintance and was most popular with all his friends. He was a favorite with all the patrons of the Y. M. C. A. and especially by the younger boys, therefore it is with much regret that he is seen to leave this place.

A farewell reception was rendered Mr. and Mrs. Birchard last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon on McKean avenue, the entertainment committee of the Jr. Wesley Bible class of the M. E. Sunday school having the affair in charge. Mr. Birchard being the teacher of the class. A pleasant evening was spent but at the last there was a sorrowful parting as the popular couple were saying the farewells.

Another well known Charleroi man to leave this morning was Rev. Morvin Custer, until recently pastor of the First Presbyterian church. He goes to the far West, into Indian Territory where he has accepted a charge. Rev. Custer resigned his pastorate here near the first of May preaching his farewell sermon last Sunday evening. His health is the principal cause of his seeking a change, the doctors having advised him to go West.

Mr. Custer the town loses a good citizen who always fought for what he thought was right and one who was ready at all times to do whatever possible in the way of bettering conditions in the town. For over a year he was president of the Board of Health, which office he filled creditably.

Mrs. Custer and children will follow later, they remaining here for a few days to visit with friends.

MONESSEN POLICE SAY NO BLANKS ON FOURTH

The Monessen police department will place rigid restrictions on the manner of Fourth of July celebrating this year and they do not intend to allow any grass to grow under their feet in acquainting the public with the fact. Burgess Shutterly has decided to profit by past experience and blank cartridges and the harmless pistol must be cut out of the day's program.

It will be remembered that two were struck on New Year's night here by stray bullets from the revolvers of careless celebrants and one life was almost sacrificed. All persons using revolvers or firearms of any kind, no matter what kind of cartridges are used, will be arrested and receive the full limit of the law. Monessen Independent.

WINNING STREAK OF THE COKERS WAS STOPPED

Charleroi Took First Game Of Present Series 5 to 4.

QUINLAN PITCHED WELL

Arch Osborne and his Cherubs crimp in the winning streak of the Mud Island aggregation and incidentally tied us with the Uniontown bunch for the first station in the pennant race. A fellow by the name of Quinlan who has been pitching ball for Bill Phillips down at Liverpool this season had much to do with Charleroi's victory as he pitched elegant ball and then when it came time to get the runs that won the game he was there some with his war club having three of the eleven hits made by Charleroi. Connellsville had things pretty much their own way until the eighth inning when Guesman was chased off the mound by a fearful bombardment which allowed Charleroi to tie the score. Wallace was substituted but could not stop the slugging and two hits for one run in the ninth took the game from the Cokers. Score:

Two Italians Are Suspected Of Robberies

Monongahela June 5.—The local police believe that in the arrest of two Italians last evening they have the men who have been terrorizing the town and valley with frequent holdups and robberies.

One, giving in name as Samuel Tasquale, was arrested on Main street on a charge of petty thieving. While passing down Main street he snatched some fruit from the stand of Antonio Coregeva, who demanded payment. This was refused and the fruit dealer held his man until Officer Bergmann arrested him. When searched a .38 caliber revolver and a large dirk knife were found on his person.

After his arrest an Italian giving his name as Pietro demanded the release of Tasquale, and when he was told that this could not be done he became threatening and was also placed under arrest. The same warlike equipment found on the first prisoner was duplicated in his pockets. They were taken before Mayor William Blankenbuehler last evening and held for court. Tasquale's bail was placed at $300 and Pietro's at $400.

CASES OF LOCAL INTEREST HEARD IN COUNTY COURT

School Board Sues Railroad Company—Placed In Juries Hands.

The case of the school district of Pennsylvania, Monongahela and Southern Railroad company was to go to the jury this morning in the county courts. This is an action for compensation for injuries to school property occasioned by the railroad company appropriating a strip of school land 277 feet in length at Millsboro, where the district high school is located. The railroad company built an underground crossing, and moved the public road up the hill. The company also built a concrete walk. It was claimed for the plaintiff that the school property had been greatly damaged, and there was a likelihood that the building would have to be abandoned. Several witnesses were called who estimated the damages to the property at from $5,000 to $12,000. The defense called several witnesses who testified that the property was worth from $7,000 to $10,000, and was not damaged for school purposes. One witness put the damage at $1,500.

In the case of the Monongahela City Trust company, received for the Robinson Machine company, against the Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal company, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $331.44, the amount of the claim sued for. It was an action to recover for a set of cagelanders furnished the defendant company. The defense was that they were improperly constructed and failed to work.

Letter to David Kellog.

Charleroi, Pa.
Dear Sir: You know Barnum said people like to be humbugged; but nobody ever gave more for the money than Barnum; and nobody sold more goods.

Paint humbug is different. There are more than 200 paints, all but adulterated, all but one of the eight are more or less weak, only one is as strong as paint can be made.

What is wanted of paint is strength, paint strength; nothing else but paint strength.

When you paint your house, bear in mind what a gallon costs and look out for your gallons. The gallon itself is $1.75 or a little less; it has to be spread on the building; that costs $2 to $4. The gallon put-on is $5.

Strongest paints, least gallons to buy and put-on at $5 a gallon. Look-out for your gallons.

Strongest paint, of course wears longest. Look-out for your gallons; look-out for nothing but gallons.

Strength is all: paint strength. Least gallons is all. All else is the humbug that Barnum told of but never did—it was worth a quarter to see Joyce Heth and the Woolly Horse, say nothing of Barnum himself, who was half the show.

Yours truly

The Poor Hungry Fish.

"Here is an interesting thing that happened last summer to a friend and myself," said a New Yorker. "We had gone on a fishing trip in a rowboat, but it seemed that either all the fish were at another place or were not hungry. We decided if those fish were not hungry we were. We had taken our luncheon, as wise fishermen will, and in order to keep the bread as fresh as possible had left it in loaf form. My friend asked me to pass it to him, and in doing so the loaf of bread went overboard. We made out the best we could without the bread and later rowed to another place to fish. On our way back we passed the place where we lost our bread. Then we saw the sight of our lives. On each side of the loaf of bread stood a big fish, and for as far as we could see there was a great line of small fish. We wondered what it was, and then the thought dawned on us—those fish had formed a 'bread line' and the two large fish were dealing out the bread. After that we didn't have the heart to try to catch any of those poor, hungry fish."

MAN ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE THIS MORNING

Accused Of Selling Liquor On Sunday And To Minors.

TAKEN TO MONONGAHELA

Charles Dobinski, of Donora was arrested at that place this morning on a charge of illegal liquor selling. County Detective McCleary made the arrest.

The house where the man conducted his liquor business has been under surveillance for some time, but not until recently were the officers able to find enough evidence to warrant the arrest. It is said that Dobinski conducted a retail liquor business on Sunday, and that on that day his place was crowded and men hardly able to wait had been seen to make their exit through a rear door. He is also charged with selling liquor to minors. The man will be given a hearing tonight before Mayor Blankenbuehler, of Monongahela.

Circumstantial Evidence.

"You say you met the defendant on a street car and that he had been drinking and gambling," said the attorney for the defense during the cross examination.

"Yes," replied the witness.

"Did you see him take a drink?"

"No."

"Did you see him gambling?"

"No."

"Then how do you know," demanded the attorney, "that the defendant had been drinking and gambling?"

"Well," explained the witness, "he gave the conductor a blue chip for his car fare and told him to keep the change."—Lippincott's Magazine.

MINE WORKERS SECURE A SCALE

Pittsburg June 4.—"A satisfactory wage scale was agreed on at Taylor for the mine workers in Armstrong county and at Greenville yesterday for the men in the Mercer-Butler field."

President Francis Feehan, of district No. 5, made the foregoing statement this morning upon his return from Greenville, in company with Vice President James S. Clark, and National Vice President John P. White. Continuing, President Feehan said, "We met the operators at Taylor and were able to very quickly come to an agreement whereby over 1,000 miners will return to work. At Greenville the same conditions were met and a joint agreement was entered into between the operators and the representatives of the field, which will affect about 2,500 to 3,000 men."

"A special convention of the men in the Mercer-Butler field has been called for next Tuesday when the agreement will, it is expected, be formally ratified."

President Feehan expressed himself as satisfied with the work done and is today sending out calls for the Grove City meeting. National Vice President White will remain in the Pittsburg district a few days before going to the national headquarters at Indianapolis.

Operations Started With Large Working Force—Big Daily Output.

After a shut down of six months during the greater part of which time repairs of some kind were in progress the Naomi mine of the United Coal Company has resumed operations. It was at this mine the first of the series of recent fatal explosions occurred on the night of December 1 last, when 34 men lost their lives. Following an inquest a special commission appointed by James S. Rodrick, chief of the State Department of Mine, ordered a number of changes for the better protection of miners. Naomi is today said to be one of the safest and best ventilated mines on the Monongahela River, the company having spent a great sum in making it so. James Henderson is superintendent.

That a better system of ventilation might be secured an air course was driven the entire length of the right side of the mine. It is over five thousand feet long and 70 square feet in area—the same size as the main entries. For part of this distance the air course traverses abandoned workings, many of which were full of water that had to be bulkheaded off. It is but a temporary arrangement, as an air shaft is being sunk a short distance beyond the end of the present mine. As soon as this is completed, in two or three months, the air course will be abandoned. Instead of there being one inlet and two outlets as before, there are now two inlets and two outlets giving every entry a plentiful supply for fresh air.

The mine will be regularly sprinkled to keep down the dust which in the past has caused nearly as much trouble as the gas.

Three hundred and twenty-five men are now employed at Naomi, which number will be increased to 400. The output is now about 1,200 tons of run-of-mine coal a day but soon it is expected to run close to 2,000 tons. The payroll is $12,000 every two weeks, and with the additional output this will be increased to $18,000.

The air shaft being sunk will be 13x206 feet and will be fitted with a cage to hoist and lower the men and supplies. It will be sufficiently large to take coal out, should the company decide at any time to increase the output. Sufficient acreage is held to last for 20 years.

BANK RECEIVER PAYS DIVIDENDS

Waynesburg, Pa., June 4.—John H. Strawn, receiver of the Farmers and Drivers National Bank, which closed its doors December 12, 1906, received checks from the Comptroller of the Currency today for the second dividend, and they are now ready for distribution.

The present dividend is for 15 per cent of the entire claim, and will give the depositors over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The first dividend, 25 per cent was paid almost a year ago.

To "Do Over"

Much roughly thrown together, crudely soldered, ill-looking repair work comes to us. New patrons bring it to us to "do over." Same way with time pieces, from the daintiest watch to the largest clock. They all give plain proof of tampering rather than adjusting; all this tells us that nothing but the best of our own work will build a business.

Deserves Reward.

This paper has refused an advertisement from a mail order house in Chicago. The house claimed to be selling groceries at an enormous cut in prices. The advertisement was either catchy or the firm was selling improved provisions. We trust our friends in the grocery business as
well as the people of the town will appreciate our efforts to protect them
from such concerns.—Monessen Independent.

The Independent deserves thanks for
its refusal. But that refusal cost it
money. It is a common saying that
"There is no such thing as a free lunch,"
yet every newspaper, worthy of the
name, possesses sentiment enough for
home institutions to refuse to accept
advertising that would work injury to some merchants. It is begging the question to say that such advertising
would not harm the business of home
merchants. It must be profitable or
the sharp, shrewd, and in many cases,
unscrupulous, men at the head of the
mail order houses would not be so extremely anxious to use the columns of
local papers to exploit their wares.
And it is also true that many of these
mail order houses advertise a while and
sell a sucker and the newspapers know
it and in refusing the advertisements
the local papers perform a double service, that of protecting the people
from imposition and also the business
men from unscrupulous competition.
It is equally true that the local papers
could fill their advertising columns
with advertisements of mail order
houses located in Chicago, in Pittsburg, in Wheeling, in Baltimore, in Philadelphia, and even from as far as
St. Louis, yet like the Independent,
they refuse to do so.

How well this service is appreciated
can be told by a glance over a local paper.

Why?

Why are newspapers usually termed
independent in politics almost always
found antagonizing the Republican
party, its policies and its candidates?
Is it because the Democratic party has nothing to attack? Is it because that
party has attained an excellence, both
in principle and performance, that is beyond criticism? Or do they go up on the idea that it is useless to kick a sore?

The Republican party is made up
of millions of men who have always
gone upon the idea that the majority
shall rule. Unless we accept the New England dictum that "majorities are
always wrong," it would seem that
after a majority of the Republican voters had expressed their will, those professing Republican principles under
independent pretensions should at least
refrain from indecent and untruthful
criticisms.

But they do not do this. They substitute their whims, their isms and
their private grievances for the crys-
tallized wisdom of the party and proceed under an independent cloak to traduce all that which the Republican
party stands for.

Should Be Prohibited.

The Charleroi Council should, at its
next meeting enact an ordinance regulating the sale of explosives in this
borough. The approach of July 4th,
and the consequences, arising from the sale of dangerous explosives to the public, as well as the young need not be told,
render such an ordinance necessary.

The place at which to prevent these
annual killings and maimings is the
place where the death-dealing articles
is sold. It is like locking the barn
after the horse is stolen to arrest boys
who can freely purchase such things.
For they will buy and use them if they
can, despite the best efforts of the police. By forbidding their sale with heavy penalties attached for its violation many distressing accidents will
be averted.

Other cities and boroughs in Pennsylvania have enacted and enforced
such an ordinance and the highest
court in the State has sustained them;
and such an ordinance is needed.

Beginning Work.

The clans are gathering at Chicago
and it is not too much to say that the work of the National Committee in this week will go a long ways in determining who will be the next Republican nominee for President.

There are 229 contested seats and
the result of those contests will determine whether Secretary Taft will be nominated on the first ballot or not.
Mr. Taft must get better than an even break to secure that result, and if he does not, then it is the field against
him. And possibly and probably a
"dark horse" will secure the prize.
If Mr. Taft gets a majority of the contested seats the work of the
convention will be that of
merely ratifying its decisions and nominating him. So the nomination
of Mr. Taft will really hinge upon the factions of the National Committee
this week. That there will be stubborn contests goes without saying as
all other candidates realize the importance of this week's work.

You ought to buy the
Emerson Oxford
now because Fashion dictates
the wear of the low-cut shoe in Spring and Summer, and in the
many stylish lasts of the Emerson Oxford we have just
that newest style suited to your
particular foot needs.

You ought to wear the Emerson Oxford because it combines comfort and style. The
stiff box toe is built sufficiently
high to give room for the foot,
and thus prevent that uncom-
fortable pressure and rubbing
wear to the hosiery found in the ordinary low cut shoe. The perfect cut of the upper leather of the Emerson permits of no flaring
edge. That is why it is called
"The Shoe that Fits the Ankle."

Ask us to prove it before you
buy. We only dare offer to because we know we can.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living
you are making now, and place
the difference in this bank.

A BAD PLAN OF TRAVEL

The Scheme That Worried One Woman
on Her Trip Abroad.

"When I hear of people joyfully making plans for their first trip abroad," said a man who has made many a transatlantic voyage, "I am tempted to give them a little bit of advice, based, of course, on my own observations, but particularly upon a remark made to me by a middle aged woman whose seat in the saloon was next to mine on my return trip last summer. This woman had a mission, and it was to find that she referred, in answering my question one day, I asked her what she had been doing on the other side. She looked half quizzically, half reproachfully, at her spouse and said, 'Well, my principal occupation was trying to keep track of John."

"It developed that her concern was not over what John might do in European capitals, but simply related to the difficulty each had in meeting the other after pursuing their several ways in a strange city. She to browse among the shops and he, an inveterate sightseer, to visit this, that and the other spot of interest. Their general scheme, as I was informed, was to diverge, say, in the morning, following their respective dents and arranging to meet at a certain place at a certain time. The plan sounds feasible, but it is so impracticable, that, as both of them found, it was an experiment that didn't work well. First one would be delayed and then the other, and if you have ever waited for a person in a foreign city you can appreciate the particular variety of anxiety that comes in about ten minutes. There's a feeling that something has happened to the missing person, for one thing, and, for another, there's an increasing realization that you yourself are wasting time. If you start out to look up the delinquent, the case becomes practically hopeless. The needle in the haystack is easy compared to that search. When the reunion does come at dinner time in the hotel or pension, explanations are received with tears or haughty disdain. Oh, I know; I've been through it."

New York Press.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is provented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in an almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little farther the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has accumulated to a depth of ten feet. Wells driven into the sand disclose strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

Among the Exchanges

The New Castle Herald sermonizes thusly over our old friend Towser:

Another war against dogs is on. There are two sides to these periodic carves. Whoever sees a person die of hydrophobia is ready to see a dog shot out of existence. Everybody who starts to raise sheep in New England discovers that in this part of the world dogs are esteemed higher than sheep. It is universal testimony that, but for our dogs, Connecticut would have several million sheep on her fields, now given over to underbrush. This is the practical side. On the other side is the man who owns a dog. Be he Bill Sykes or the most law abiding citizen, in the law if he has a dog he is opposed to a general dog slaughter. There is an attachment between men and dogs that has a real foundation deep down in the affections. The fidelity of the good dog is proverbial and genuine. The intelligence of some dogs is rivaled only by the bloodhound for instance, or the hunter. The foot cur that dashes out at you as you pass may be the pet of a bunch of peevish men, to whom he is company, a guide. He is worthless to you and your opinion, and yet he is loved and his death would cause grief. Under these conditions it is altogether probable that the dog will ever be exterminated from this part of the earth. He has too many friends to be individually considered. In the grand scheme he is a nuisance, but in particular is the object of somebody's affection and in that his safety lies.

Juveniles Make Great Hit At State

Large crowds witnessed both performances of the Juvenile Minstrel at the Star theatre last night. Every one went away well pleased. Many who did not witness the youthful minstrel at the School Hall some time ago took advantage of the opportunity last night to see them with those who did witness the former production were anxious to again see it. At the first show the theatre was packed to the doors and many were to remain for the second. At last performance the place was well filled.

The end men's jokes were given in a better manner than ever and a "gag" received well merited applause. The soloists were Duncan Berryman, John Gant, Ira Ransom and Ben Jones and the end boys were Jameson, Carlton Jameson and Fr. Michener, bones, and Fred Schen. Paul Nutt and Frank Ailes, tam.

What perhaps was one of the features of the evening's performance was the work of little Bennie Jo the Charleroi infant prodigy.

His solo, "School Days," in the first was well rendered and brought hearty applause. In the olio, which was short, the little fellow's act was best demonstrated. He sang "Why Was I Ever Born Lazy," "It's Great To Be A Soldier Man" and "The Accompanist for the Boys." Miss Cheerful Willoughby of Monaca. The minstrel was new under the direction of Johnny Jen. Tomorrow afternoon at the matinee especially for the children, they will do their famous and most reliable cakewalk.

An Anecdote of Ellsworth.

There was a character in the early life of Colonel Ellsworth, the brilliant young lawyer who was one of the first notable victims of the civil war. His struggles to gain a foothold in his profession were attended by many hardships and humiliating privations. Once, finding the man he was looking for on a matter of business in a restaurant, he was invited to partake of the luncheon to which his acquaintance was just sitting down. Ellsworth was ravenously hungry, almost starving, in fact, but he declined courteously, but firmly, asking permission to talk over the business that had brought him thither while the other went on with the meal.

The brave young fellow in telling the story in after years confessed that he suffered positive agony at the sight and smell of the tempting food.

"I could not in honor accept hospitality I could not reciprocate," was his simple explanation of his refusal. "I might starve, but I could not sponger!" —Marion Harland's "Complete Etiquette"

The head, like the stomach, is most easily infected with poison when it is empty —Jean Paul Richter
